

Copyright: Christine Mes

Lesson objectives:

- See and understand the difference between 'for', 'since' and 'during'
- Use 'for', 'since' and 'during' in exercises

For or Since

- Both answer the question: "How long?"
- For + a period of time says how long the period of time has lasted
- Since + a point in time says when the period of time started
(Since can be followed by a subject + verb, eg. since I was 18, since I was a child, etc.)

Copyright: Christine Mes

since 1997

Examples:

I have lived in Belgium since 1997.

I have lived in Belgium for 14 years.

For or Since

Select the correct word in the sentences below:

I've been waiting for/since an hour.

I've been waiting for/since eight o'clock.

I've been waiting for/since five minutes.

I've been waiting for/since Tuesday.

I've been waiting for/since ages.

Complete the sentences below. Remember to use 'for' or 'since' as necessary.

I haven't _____ this morning.

I haven't _____ two hours.

I haven't _____ last year.

I haven't _____ ten o'clock.

I haven't _____ three days.

I haven't _____ I was at school.

I haven't _____ yesterday.

I haven't _____ I was little.

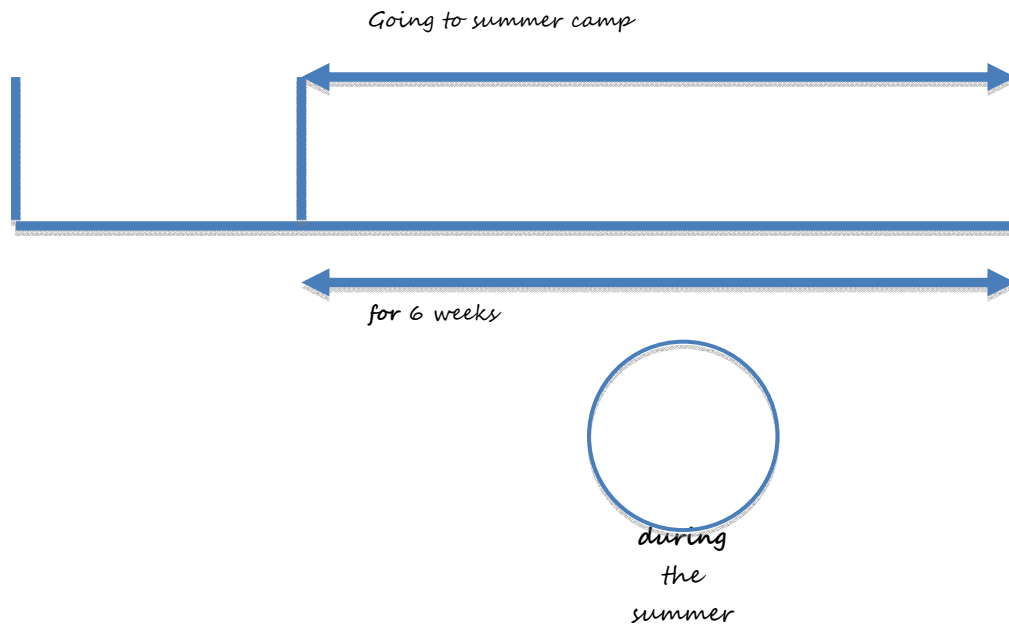

Copyright: Christine Mes

I haven't _____ Sunday.

I haven't _____ I started work in Brussels.

For or During

- For + a period of time answers the question "How long?"
- During + a noun answers the question "When?"

Copyright: Christine Mes

Examples:

I go to summer camp for 6 weeks.

I go to summer camp during the summer holidays.

For, Since or During

Complete the sentences with 'for', 'since' or 'during':

Ann has lived in Brussels _____ she was young.

She has lived in the city centre _____ three years.

She has been learning English _____ she was 11.

She went to England _____ the summer holidays last year.

She stayed in England _____ a month.

She made lots of friends _____ her visit.

One of her English friends plans to visit her _____ a week next year.

Copyright: Christine Mes

Objectives achieved:

- See and understand the difference between 'for', 'since' and 'during'
- Use 'for', 'since' and 'during' in exercises